Through our company's partnership with Gencorp Insurance Group we were able to significantly improve our insurance program. Chad Bjorklund, our account executive, led us through a comprehensive risk and insurance analysis. As a result of the analysis we determined that we were exposed to risks that our previous insurance program did not address. Chad not only found solutions to address these exposures, he was also able to reduce our insurance premiums as well. We learned quickly after becoming a client of Gencorp Insurance Group that they are more than just an agency. It is their continuous and proactive service that sets them apart. We could not be happier with our decision to work with Chad and Gencorp Insurance Group.
